ANNOUNCEMENTS AND UPCOMING EVENTS

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

The American Museum of Natural History (AMNH) in New York is inviting applications for an Assistant Curator position (tenure track) in the Division of Anthropology. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research relates to issues of general significance in anthropology and who apply their findings to challenges confronting the modern world, especially in the face of globalization, degradation of the environment, threats to human health, political conflict, uneven resource distribution, or other problems of broad societal concern. Although candidates are invited to apply regardless of geographical interest, we are especially interested in those with expertise in Pacific/Oceania. Candi-
Call for Proposals - 2010-2011 Instructional Improvement Program (IIP) Grants

The purpose of the Instructional Improvement Program is to encourage and support faculty efforts to improve the quality of undergraduate instruction. The program is supported largely by Undergraduate Instructional Improvement funds from the State Legislature and the Regents. These funds are viewed as seed money to encourage experimentation with new ideas, methods, technologies and content areas, so that the quality of undergraduate instruction at the University of California remains excellent, and like the quality of research, on the “cutting edge.” The benefits of a funded project must affect more than one offering of one or more courses. IIP Proposals are due Tuesday, February 22, 2011 by 5:00 pm.
